EDITORIAL:

Alot has happened this summer. Lots of new skate terrain has been created and it is up to us to keep the expansion of this ART continuous as we shred the surfaces of this planet day after day. I spent six and a half weeks in California this summer visiting all my old friends, buds, and skate mates. The action in CA is way intense! We, my friends and I, jammed to Santa Cruz, Sacramento, San Francisco, and the rest of the Bay Area, just skatin and partying and having a total blast! We caught the DKs at the Keystone in Berkeley, loads of slamming and stage dives. Too much to tell now, maybe later. Oh, I would like to apologize for any mailing problems, delays, fuck ups, etc.. I left immediately after the thrid issue was printed. Buisness has picked up massively and mail flow was insanely high. The temporary adress change has expired and the adress is back to its same old self. Thanx to all for the great response and all material. Thats what keeps this rag going. Thanx again for your cooperation during the busiest summer ever. GO SKATE!!

Dear Jake Meggers and the United Skates crew,

Congrats on being featured in the recent THRASHER! The Florence skate rats have formed a group of skaters, called the North Alabama Locals (NAL). Its no big deal, just dudes that love to skate and raise hell. Hobbies 1/2-pipe ramp is under construction again. (This ramp is known throughout the south as the "Bug Ramp")

The ramp ought to be finished in about 2 weeks, It is skateable at the moment and session do occur between construction, a ramp jam is on the agenda for late September so be there or be shot! Bug man is rippin but he can be beat, really come down for a weekend, I'll put you up at my house, but please no bubble gum this time, dammit!

Tyler "That" Ledbetter

United Skates of America,

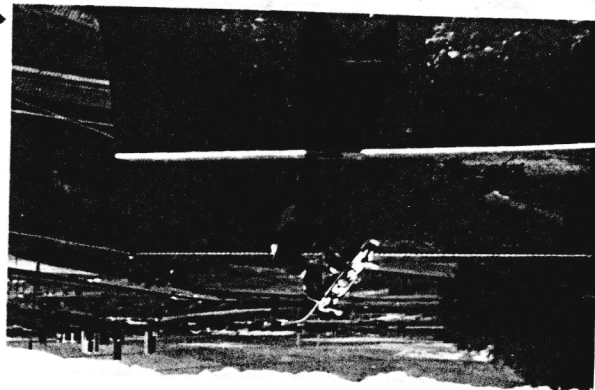

Im writing to tell you about me wanting to be a subscriber to U.S.A.. As for Hawaii, the skate scene is picking up. There is only 1 real good 1/2-pipe in Hawaii. Its called the "Red Hill" ramp. Its owned by the Coast Guard and its 8 feet tall, 16 feet wide, 10 feet of flat, and 1 inch of vert., with PVC coping. Hope you like the picture and stickers. Well, till then..... Skate tough. Mahalo!!

Stanford Harris

U.S.A.,

Heard bout your zine through skate buds and read the rave review you got in THRASHER. Gotta see one. So, Im sending you my zine. Its called NO LIMITS. Please send me a copy of your zine. I hope the trade zines will cover "cover price". If you need ANY stuff from Skaterville, just ask. Got tons of photos. Heres a few cuz we both know how hard it is to get fotos from other places. NOTABLE FACTS OF INTEREST:

The "Bug Ramp" is being extended 6 feet wider, one side will be split level, the other one level with an added 2 foot wide channel. Good luck in the construction NAL crew. Leyton severely mangled the skate vehicle he previously owned. A huge "Bug Ramp Jam" is on the agenda for late september. It will include a Ditch contest and hopefully some freestyle. Of course, a massive party will follow. Be there! Getaway Skatepark in Huntsville Alabama is fixing to be dynamited? We, the NUCLEAR YOUTH are planning a ramp jam (NUCLEAR YOUTH JAM EXTRAVAGANZA) for sometime before christmas. Date is currently undecided. It will, however, include a mass ramp jam, a bank jam session, freestyle for sure, and possibly some streetstyle. An insane party will follow with bands from everywhere if all goes well. Rick Nakashojis mag, NO LIMITS, is the bitchenest mag Ive ever come across. Get one for sure! Ricks adress is in the back. The new SEVERE NEAL INJURY, SPEEDED ZINE, and SKATER OF FORTUNE are out and all rippin! Subscribe to every mag you can get ahold of and SKATE SKATE SKATE!!!!!! A new Mississippi ramp has popped up in Hattiesburg. It is called the "Cow Pie Ramp", and is something like ten feet tall, 8 feet wide. Buckit said it was cool, check him out skatin this ramp in this issue. All the little kids around my house are buggin me 24 hours a day to go skate with them. They all purchased good boards but cant skate. Theyll learn, I GUESS. SLAPPY GO!.....WOOPS! Nevermind. The CAL scene is still the rippinist around. Soooooo much action!!! UNITED SKATES will remain large in size. Awe hell, why dont you quit reading and just GO SKATE!!!!!!!!!!!!

HACKY SACK-O-MANIA

SKATING, SKATING, SKATING..... THATS ALL I HEAR ABOUT IN THIS MAG. BUT NOW'S THE TIME FOR A LITTLE EQUAL SPACE ABOUT A SPORT THAT GOES HAND-IN-HAND, OR FOOT-TO-FOOT, WITH SKATING. THATS RIGHT, ITS CALLED HACKY-SACK. OK, DONT GIVE ME THE "WHAT THE HELL IS HACKY-SACK" BULLSHIT. AS I SAID, HACKY AND SKATING GO TOGETHER LIKE MOE, CURLY, AND LARRY.

A SACK SESSION BEFORE A THRASHING OF THE 1/2-PIPE IS A PERFECT WAY TO BUILD UP COORDINATION THAT, OF COURSE, ANY SKATER HAS TO HAVE. OR EVEN A SACK SESSION AFTER A MIND BOGGLING DAY INTENSE GRINDS AND SLAPPYS. I CRAVE SACK LIKE CABALLERO CRAVES SKATING. IVE TRIED TO KEEP SACK IN THE MINDS OF YOUTH ALL OVER, BUT I CANT DO IT ALONE. DO YOU THINK ITS A SPORT OF ITS OWN? I DO! AND SO DO SKATERS FROM MIAMI TO SANTA CRUZ.

HACKY SACK IS "A SPORT WHICH PRODUCES MIND BLOWING ACTS OF FOOTWORK AND THRILLS OF CHILLS UP THE SPINE, USUALLY ASSOCIATED WITH A FOOTBAG."

DO U THINK IT SHOULD BE MIXED WITH SKATING, OR ALL ALONE? I LIKE BOTH. SEND COMMENTS, STORIES, PIX, ETC... SO WE CAN CHECK OUT YOUR LOCAL DUDES SACKIN' OUT!!

SOMETHING TO BELIEVE IN

This is a US-Canadian compilation with such groups as DOA, Personality Crisis, Kraut, Big Boys, Youth Brigade, and loads more! All the songs on this disc are excellent, but "Tits on the BEACH" by DOA is deffinatly one of the rippinest!

The ORIGINAL SOUNDTRACK TO "REPO MAN"

This moveeee SUCKED!!!!!! But the soundtrack is awesome! Some of these songs are "Lets have a war" by FEAR, "Coup d' Etat" by the wonderful Circle Jerks, and a real slow version of "When the shit hits the fan" by the Jerks. That song is unbelievable! Institutionalized by the Suicidal Tendancies rips. There is yet ANOTHER version of Black Flag's "TV Party" that also blows minds. There is lots more so check it out !

dormant park witnessed intense skate action. Fave spots were the 13 foot keyhole and the three-fourths quarter capsule. KJ blazed Miller flips off the coping. Spud Boy mauled sweepers, Mac contored inverts on a shredded Ray Bones model, and the Bug Man flew airs from the pipe onto the flat wall.

Periodic police patrols kept the skate querillas on constant guard. Several close calls before the inevitable happened. The free session had been observed by law enforcers from across the lake. The time had come.
EVACUATION... The cool, calm and collected infiltrators quickly inacted the escape plan.
Back over the fence and through the underbrush, the force reached the assault vehicle without a single casualty. Packing up with military precision, the skate dogs then advanced to the nearby MacDonald's for the 30¢ burger deal.
After wreaking havoc on the scarfing establishment the Bug Force was back on the road to neutral territory. Mission accomplished. P.W.

LEYTON "SKATON" PHILLIPS

"OPERATION: BUGFORCE

It was a cool, February night. "Bug Man" banged his Rocco deck on the table and called the regular monthly skate meeting to order. "Tonight's topic of discussion; organized infiltration of the seasonal-closed pay-to-skate establishment," he addressed the members, in the manner of a college professor. "I have it all worked out. Due to heavy police surveillance lately, an assault team must be formed. The remainder of the meeting was spent finalizing the plans of attack. The quest was dubbed Operation: Bug Force, due to Bug Man's complete master mind of the mission.

Professor "Bug Man" had done his homework well. The day of attack was choice. Blue skies, 60 degree temps. 12 noon, the assault team proceeded to load their vehicle with the necessary tools of obsession. The Operation was underway as the compact-wagon hit the highway in search of skate adventure. The "Bug Force" consisted of Spud Boy, Kinky, Doc, Led Head. Bug Man took driving duties.

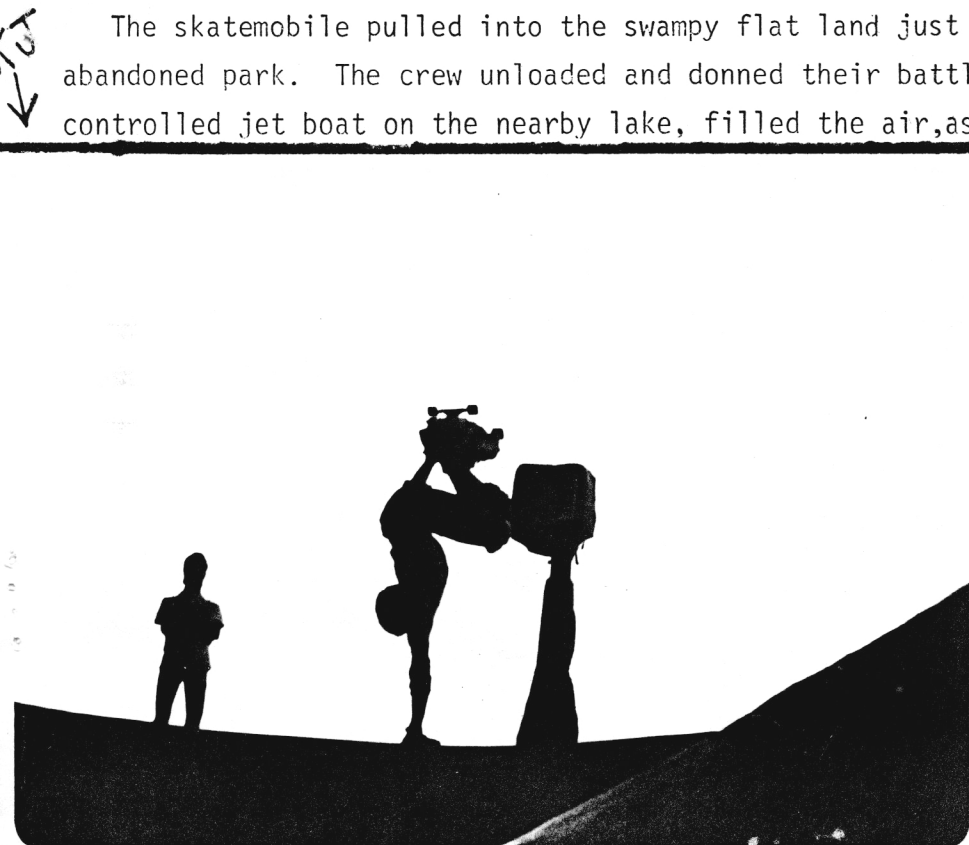

With a 70 mile destination point, regular daily rituals, and Gang of Four and Oxygen Debt tunes, at high decibels, occupied the die hard's travel time. Arriving in H'ville, an hour later, methods of escape were decided upon should the need arise. Bug Man had chosen a southerly infiltration route.

The skatemobile pulled into the swampy flat land just south of the temporarily abandoned park. The crew unloaded and donned their battle gear. Noise from a remote-controlled jet boat on the nearby lake, filled the air, as they proceeded single-file through the underbrush

Approaching the sixfoot chain link barrier, the echo of wheels slapping cement was heard by the Bug Force. Scaling the fence, the fellow intruders made their identity known. The A&B class winners of the Alabama Mini Series were shredding in winning form. A few other locals were present. Locals then familiarized the force with the rules of free skate.

For the next few hours, the

Atlanta AIR

Time and time again. Rain is the skaters greatest enemy (besides pigs, rent-a-cops, etc.). I just witnessed 3 straight weeks of that nasty wet stuff and I am absolutely positive that I have just lost the remainder of my sanity.

Today I witnessed and (almost) participated in the worst case of SKATE HARRASSMENT I have ever seen in my life. Stop. Dont turn the page. I want everybody out there to be pissed off and disgusted with pigs as I am.....

Off we went. 2 skaters prepared to session till our lungs collapsed on the first dry day in the history of my stay in Atlanta. The other dude, Darren, is a local and knew the spots well and directed me first to the Convenient Bowl; a small, dry rain drain thats about 4 feet deep with mellow transitions and killer edges. After a short session (boned out) we headed out to the unknown Akers Mill Square Shopping Centre. (Thrasher Mag., Sept. 1983, pg. 22). These bricks were the coolest... For about 15 minutes we shredded, up pulls "rent-a-cops". Darren hollered BUST! And we proceded to bust ass outta there! I was makin good time and suddenly as I peered over my left shoulder I seen rent-a-cop grabbing Darren and slamming him against the wall and slapping the cuffs on him. Can you believe it? Like hes a fucking criminal or something. I thought it was a dream and I just had to put my board in my car. My conscience hit me to go over and throw myself on the mercy of the pig. Why, I dont know. I think it had sumthin to do with brotherhood for a fellow skater or sumthin. I went over and the security gaurd said, "theres the other one". I was ready for anything. The cop walked up, stuck his ugly, helmet covered head in my face and said, "were gonna teach you kids some respect". "Yes sir" was all I could say. "I want you to get the hell outta here and never cux back!".

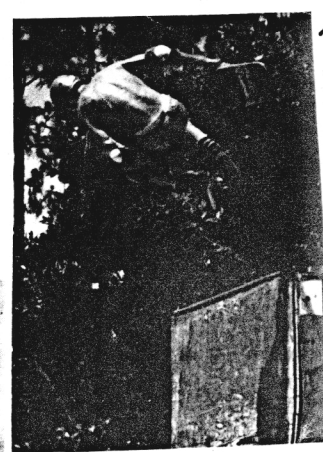

I looked at Darren, an expression of complete depressior on his face, hands behind his back....."yes sir" was all I could say. I slowly walked away and began driving home. As I was on the freeway the reality of a fucked-up world hit me hard as it has many times before. Here was a kid, committing the terribly awfull crime of having a blast on public property and was hauled off downtown somewhere while somewhere else, a dealer is pushing heroin to a 10 year old child on a street corner. Dont you feel protected? No word from Darren yet. Ive called his house but theres no answer. I just dont know what to do, guess Ill just GO SKAAAAAAAAAAAAATTTTTTTTTTTTTTTTTTEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEE!!!!!!!
